OCCUPATION: Business Owner Realtor

La Habra has made great progress recently, but we can still do better.

Economics is the science of getting the maximum benefit from your available resources, whether that's money, machinery or manpower. As an Economist I understand and implement these practices in business and personally. I would like to bring this expertise to the taxpayers of La Habra. It's essential to get the most for our money, and ensure that taxes are the minimum necessary to run the city efficiently and effectively.

Before I got into the family real estate business ten years ago, I worked in the healthcare industry for sixteen years. I was Director of Plant Operations, Safety Committee and Disaster Preparedness. These are also essential parts of the city's infrastructure.

The city's job is to provide the framework for it's citizens to build safe and productive lives for themselves and their families, without itself being intrusive. My goal is to ensure our top priorities are Police and Fire protection, good streets and a business friendly atmosphere for all size businesses. Everything else is best handled by the private sector.

I ask for your vote and look forward to helping everyone create a better La Habra.
